About the Conference

The International Conference on Functional Polymers and Membranes for a Sustainable Future is dedicated to address the urgent global need for clean water, renewable energy, and sustainable technologies. As the world transitions towards net-zero carbon strategies and circular resource utilization, the role of functional polymers and advanced membrane systems has become more critical than ever. These materials are central to next-generation solutions through development of sustainable materials and processes.

The conference brings together multidisciplinary communities of scientists, engineers, industrial partners, and policymakers to explore groundbreaking advancements in polymer science and engineering. The theme focuses on designing sustainable high-performance, durable, and application-specific functional polymers/materials for diversified applications.

FOCUSED AREAS

- Recent Advances in Polymers/Materials
- Design/Synthesis of Novel Functional Polymers
- Polymer Blends and Composites
- Polymer Modelling and Simulation
- Polymer for Advanced Applications
- Membrane Materials and Applications
- Energy Harvesting and Storage
- Conducting Polymers
- Electrolyzer and Fuel cell
- Remediation of Emerging Pollutants
- Biopolymers and Applications
- Smart Materials (Soft-Nano robots, Piezoelectric devices, etc.)
- Adhesives, Paints, and Coatings
- Nanomaterials
- Allied Fields

About the Department

Indian Institute of Technology - Roorkee is among the foremost of institutes of national importance in higher technological education and in engineering, basic and applied research. Since its establishment, the Institute has played a vital role in providing the technical manpower and know-how to the country and in pursuit of research. The Institute ranks amongst the best technological institutions in the world and has contributed to all sectors of technological development. It has also been considered a trend-setter in the area of education and research in the field of science, technology, and engineering. The Department of Polymer and Process Engineering (DPPE) is one of the unique departments of the Indian Institute of Technology Roorkee (IITR), located in the Saharanpur Campus of IIT Roorkee. Under the supervision of highly motivated faculty members, the Department performs fundamental and applied research in polymer science, polymer engineering, process engineering, and chemical engineering.

About Saharanpur

Saharanpur is well connected by air, rail, and road from major cities. From New Delhi (181 km)/Dehradun (68 km) airport, one can travel by roadways or Indian railways. Saharanpur is on the crossroads of National Highways running east, west and south. It is well connected by road with major cities like Dehradun (68 km), Haridwar (63 km), Risikesh (86 km), and Chandigarh (137 km). Saharanpur, a vibrant city steeped in history and culture, beckons travelers with its assortment of breathtaking attractions. The city is also known for its thriving local crafts, especially woodwork and handicrafts, which add an alluring touch to the overall experience. With its picturesque surroundings and historical significance, Saharanpur is more than just a travel destination; it is a captivating experience waiting to be discovered.
